ANNUAL ARTS IN SCHOOLS REPORT 2007-2008

This Annual Arts in Schools Report provides data for:

School: 23 K392

2007-2008 Principal: Shirley Wheeler-Massey

Arts Education Liaison: Ingrid Joseph

INSIDE THIS REPORT

The Annual Arts in Schools Report is a tool for school leaders to understand their delivery of arts education to every child in their school. Each Annual Arts in Schools Report measures two areas:

Student Access to and Participation in Arts Education

Uses surveys and information from DOE databases to understand if students are meeting the New York State Instructional Requirements for the Arts as well as the activities, resources and facilities used to support arts learning in each school. In addition, this section reports on questions asked in the Learning Environment Surveys about arts education.

Resources to Support Arts Education

Uses information from DOE databases and surveys to understand the resources that schools are allocating for arts education. This section includes information on certified arts teachers, arts and cultural organization services, space for arts learning, arts fundraising and professional development opportunities for teachers.

Dear School Community,

This report provides a view of the arts education opportunities you are providing for your students based on your responses to the Annual Arts Education Survey in June 2008 and includes information from the New York City Department of Education's databases.

The Annual Arts in Schools Report is an important part of the New York City Department of Education's effort to ensure that schools are providing students with the high-quality arts education they need and deserve. The report has been created to help school leaders, parents, and teachers understand how they can improve student learning in the arts, building on the Blueprint for Teaching and Learning in the Arts which provides detailed PreK-12 curricula aligned with State standards: <http://schools.nyc.gov/offices/teachlearn/arts/blueprint.html>

New York State Requirements for Arts Education

At the elementary level, in grades 1-6, the New York State Education Department (NYSED) requires that students receive instruction in dance, music, theater and visual arts in every grade. In addition, NYSED recommends that students spend a specific allocation of hours learning in the arts.ⁱ

At the middle school level, in grades 7 and 8, the NYSED expects that students achieve, by the end of grade 8, one half-unit of study in visual arts and one half-unit of study in music. NYSED has allowed New York City schools to offer any two of the art forms to meet the requirements.

At the high school level, the New York State Education Department requires that all students graduate having taken one unit or two credits in the arts (dance, music, theater and/or visual arts). High schools have the option of offering a three or five year sequence in any one of the four art forms. Students who complete five units in a single art form and successfully complete the exit exam in that art form are eligible to receive a Regents diploma with advanced designation in the arts.

This school has submitted the following information about its arts program:

In order to improve the quality of instruction and develop the affective behaviors of students, IS 392 has taken the time to seek out various competitive grants to add to its student resources. Champions of Active Learning (JP Morgan Chase) and the Center for Arts Education have both awarded IS 392 grants for its arts education program. Students are engaged in their curriculum with support in Ceramics (6th Grade), Photography (7th Grade), and Dance (8th Grade), which is aligned to the content in Social Studies. Accomplished consultants in the field, work alongside our teachers to expose students to their craft. Students are given an opportunity to reflect on their experiences and write expressively about the arts with consultants who are professional writers from Teachers and Writers Collaborative. These residencies culminate with performances where parents take an active role in costume making, scenery etc. Additionally, IS 392 was awarded an extension grant from the Center of Arts Education, which enabled the school to share their promising practices with other schools around the country who want to replicate an integrated arts curriculum. Other strong community alliances exist with organizations such as Learning Leaders, who fund a corporate Book Buddy program with 6th graders for the purpose of developing literacy skills. Additionally, IS 392 is one of six schools in New York City involved in the "Museum as Researcher" program through The Metropolitan Museum of Art. Student participants in this program serve as curators to share and develop their knowledge of art, which they then turn-key to their classmates. Lotus Dance Studios and Pure Elements provide various consultants to work with our students in various components of our arts program. It is our belief at IS 392, that, through the enrichment of the arts, our students are able to find multiple ways in which to demonstrate their knowledge and express themselves freely.

Notes

- Learning Environment Survey data are based on responses from schools where students provided responses to the 2007/8 Learning Environment Survey and are based on the perception of students about the arts in this school. For more information on how well this school supports student learning in the arts, please visit the 2007 - 2008 Learning Environment Survey which is located on the Statistics section of this school's website.
- Schools may have more than six arts and cultural service providers, but due to space constraints we were unable to list all of the arts or cultural organizations with which they work.
- All data are based on arts instruction offered during the school day. This Annual Arts in Schools Report does not report on after school, weekend, and summer arts education.
- Percentages of the Learning Environment Survey data may not add up to 100 percent due to rounding. The percentages are not based on a student response rate of 100%.
